

The textbook drive on this campus is helping support:

Actual recipients of book donations or LEAP Grants.

Better World Books is one of the largest socially-responsible booksellers in the world. At the heart of the company is a passion for literacy and education. As a Founding B Corporation, Better World Books upholds its commitment to serve its social mission as well as the environment. Supporting literacy and education with every book sold has been an initiative of the company since it was founded.

Better World Books will sell, donate or recycle collected textbooks with each sale helping to support library and non-profit grant programs and book donations made around the world—and in some cases your own backyard.
